Manuscript Guidelines
Please review carefully!

GENERAL
A complete manuscript is required from all podium presenters. The manuscript should be an accurate reflection of the material you will present at the Annual Meeting. Although some additional material can be included, it is best to stay close to the information you will give from the podium. The deadline to upload a manuscript is August 28, 2020.

LENGTH AND FORMAT
The manuscript must follow the format of the SRS journal Spine Deformity, the full author guidelines can be accessed at https://www.springer.com/journal/43390/submission-guidelines?IFA at the guide for authors tab. A brief summary is below.

The manuscript should be double-spaced, with generous margins (1 to 1 ½ inches) to allow room for notes by the reviewers. Length can vary, but should probably be 10-15 double-spaced pages (not including illustrations or references).

Paragraphs may either be flush left, with an extra return before them, or may be indented with a tab. Main headings should be centered, main subheadings should be typed in bold at the left margin.

Tables, charts, and black and white illustrations may be included in the body of the text or submitted on separate pages. Each table or illustration should include a legend (such as Figure 1) to connect the illustration to the text. Tables should have clearly marked headings, and abbreviations should be spelled out and explained at the end of the table. Any arrows, letters, or other indicators that appear in the artwork should be clearly explained in the legend.

If abbreviated terms will be used in the body of the abstract, these should be spelled out at their first use. For example, “AIS” should first be shown as “Adolescent Idiopathic Scoliosis (AIS)”.

TITLE PAGE
The title page should include the following information:
- Title of the paper
- Each author’s name as it appears in the abstract which will be printed in the Final Program
- Institution name or practice setting of the primary author
- Mailing address, telephone number, fax number and email address of the primary author

REFERENCES
References are not required, but may be included. If used, they should be numbered in the order in which they are mentioned within the text. The reference list should be typed or printed double-spaced and should follow directly after the text. A good format for references is:
